MODEL UNITED NATIONS & YOUTH PARLIAMENT

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Model United Nations (MUN) is an educational simulation that replicates the structure and operations of the United Nations, enabling students to step into the roles of diplomats representing different countries.

During an MUN conference, participants are assigned to represent specific nations in various committees, such as the General Assembly, Security Council, World Health Organization (WHO), United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC), and more specialized bodies like UNESCO or International Court of Justice (ICJ).

Each committee addresses pressing global issues, such as climate change, international security, public health crises, or human rights violations. Delegates research their assigned country's stance on the agenda, prepare position papers, engage in formal debates, and collaborate to draft and vote on resolutions. This structured process includes speeches, moderated and unmoderated caucuses, and the art of consensus-building.

MUN provides numerous benefits beyond academic enrichment. It cultivates leadership qualities, enhances research and analytical skills, strengthens public speaking and teamwork abilities. It fosters cultural awareness and a deeper appreciation for global diversity. Participants gain insights into international relations and policy-making and form networks with like-minded peers, often sparking an interest in careers related to international affairs, law, or politics.

YOUTH PARLIAMENT

The Youth Parliament [YP] is a simulated parliamentary debate where students participate in discussions, debates, and decision-making processes, mirroring the procedures of a real parliament. This platform allows youngsters to express their opinions, develop critical thinking, and learn about governance. The primary objective of the Youth Parliament is to strengthen democratic values and institutions, to promote civic awareness and education among youth, to develop leadership skills, critical thinking and public speaking abilities and to foster national unity and integration.

The Ministry of Parliamentary Affairs launched the web portal of National Youth Parliamentary scheme (NYPS) on 26th November, 2019, to expand the outreach of Youth Parliament Programme of the Ministry to all the recognized educational institutions of the country. Teams engage in discussions and debates on some pre selected topics or motions. Participants vote on resolutions, bills or motions. A panel of judges evaluates participants' performance, and awards are given to outstanding performers. By participating in Youth parliament competitions, young individuals can gain valuable experience, develop important skills, and become more informed and engaged citizens.

Message from President

Dear Delegates and Participants,

As the Managing Director and Chief Legal Officer of Lawwing (Regd.), I feel a deep responsibility to articulate the vision that drives our Model United Nations and Youth Parliaments because these are not just events but vital platforms for intellectual exchange. My vision is to cultivate an environment that is fundamentally inclusive and filled with a positive spirit because I believe that the study of law and diplomacy should be a source of joy rather than stress.

When we engage in a MUN we are practicing the delicate balance of international relations and when we convene a Youth Parliament we are stepping into the shoes of policymakers but we must remember that no one knows it all. We are all perpetual students in the vast field of law and governance so it is crucial that we remain humble and open to learning from every delegate and participant. The goal is to strip away the intimidation often associated with legal debates and replace it with a genuine fun and collaborative atmosphere where questions are encouraged.

We organize these quizzes and committees to challenge our minds but we do so with the understanding that every person in the room has something valuable to teach us. The immense success of the first edition of your 'The Diplomats' event, has only reinforced our belief in our shared potential and it is with great pride that I welcome you all to our second edition of the event i.e. 'The Diplomats 2.0' coming this year which promises to be larger and greater in every sense. Let us approach every session with the humility to listen and the courage to learn together in a space that belongs to us all!

Warm regards,
Sagar Jain
President- The Diplomats 2.0

Message from Secretary General

Dear Visionaries, Change-makers, and Fellow Dreamers,

The world is not shaped by those who stay silent, but by those who find the courage to speak when the room is quiet. It is with a heart full of pride and purpose that I welcome you to The Diplomats 2.0.

This is not merely a simulation; it is a crucible. Through the Model United Nations and National Youth Parliament, we offer you more than a platform; we offer you a mirror to see the leader you are destined to become. We have curated this journey for you to collaborate and create. From the intricacies of national policy to the grand theater of global peace, may your arguments be sharp and your hearts be open. Remember: you are not just representing a country or a portfolio; you are representing the hope of a nation.

At Law Wing, our vision transcends the four walls of a committee room. We aim to ignite a flame of diplomacy that burns long after the final gavel falls. Here, your words are your weapons, and your empathy is your greatest strength. I challenge you to debate with fire, listen with humility and lead with grace.

The podium is yours. The future is listening. Let us craft a legacy that echoes.

Yours in Diplomacy

Dev

Secretary General, The Diplomats 2.0
